WIND, SEA AND BEAUTY — An unusual rock formation, washed into contorted, plastic beauty by the ocean's inexorable action, and a fresh swatch of seaweed form the perfect setting for the startling, dramatic whiteness of the model's dress. Roger Fremier's imagination, instinct for the unusual and sense of beauty have made him one of the outstanding young photographers in California.

Edgemere Remodeling Request Denied By Planning Group

by Gunnar Norberg

After yesterday's prolonged public hearing and a detailed discussion of what its members construed to have been the intent of the ordinance approved last spring to control residential-area motels, the Carmel Planning Commission unanimously denied a request by owners of the Edgemere Cottages to increase the size of two of its motel units while seeking to rebuild and remodel them.

The motion to deny was made by Commissioner Olaf Dahlstrand and seconded by Commissioner Ted Fehring, both of whom had expressed the view that the Edgemere request involved an "expansion in use," after City Attorney William Burleigh had said the Commission could properly deny the request if they felt such an expansion was involved.

The fact that the Edgemere proposal involved remodeling not only of a bedroom and bath, in each of two cases, but also of related kitchen and dining facilities, and—in the process—increasing total building coverage by 290 square feet, appeared to give Commission members considerable concern.

Commissioner Dorothy von Meier found the idea of a dining room facility, as well as a kitchen arrangement, in each unit, to be particularly disturbing. She, as well as Dahlstrand and Commissioner Edward Neroda, felt the recently legalized motel units in the residential area, should be essentially just "places to sleep."

Commissioner Charles McEwen said he could accept the idea that these motel units could be remodeled, but he did not think that "any increase in building coverage" should be allowed in connection with that.

After the Commission had acted to deny the Edgemere request, Chairman Fred Keeble expressed the evident consensus view of the Commission, that the wording of the residential-area motel-control ordinance needs clarification and improvement if the ordinance is fully to serve the purposes for which it had been adopted.

Accordingly he appointed Commissioners Dahlstrand, Neroda and McEwen to an ad hoc committee which was directed to make recommendations in the matter.

During the public hearing on the Edgemere proposal, Admiral C. W. Fisher, speaking as head of the Carmel Citizens' Committee, said his organization did "not want to allow any expansion" in motel uses in the residential areas of the city. Others supporting that view at the hearing were Leslie Gross, Ann Woolworth and Vice Admiral R. W. Hayler.

Comment by members of the public and the Commissioners indicated that there was a common desire to see that neither the number of units nor the size of individual units should be allowed to increase beyond the level existing on Jan. 1, 1967, the date named in the residential motel-control ordinance.

In other action yesterday, the Planning Commission approved sign applications for the Swedish Restaurant, Oxbridge, Balcony Studio Gallery, Carlos-O-Carmel, Carmel Sight and Sound, and Shoemaker Special Gifts. It denied an application by Nina Boutique Fantastique. The Commission also approved new frontage proposals at Ted's Liquors, and the installation of pathway lights at Lobos Lodge.

A public hearing on a proposal to coordinate variance rules in the municipal code was set for the December meeting of the Commission which will convene at 4 p.m., Dec. 18.

A proposal by Julia Minor and Herman Has seeking an early consideration of apartment regulations in the commercial district drew the response from Chairman Keeble that revision of, or establishment of such regulations would take several months at least.

'Shop With Kathy' New Feature

Mrs. Kathy Hall, whose "Shopping With Kathy" column appears for the first time this week on Page 7 of the Pine Cone, is a recent addition to the staff.

A newcomer to the Peninsula area, Kathy graduated from the University of Arizona last spring where she received her B.A. in journalism. At the University she served as assistant society editor of The Arizona Daily Wildcat, her college daily. She is currently a member of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional women's journalism honorary sorority.

Hoping to make "Shopping With Kathy" a regular weekly feature, Kathy said she feels this type of a reader advertiser column offers a special advantage to the advertiser who wants to be singled out and noticed in an individual way.

Wouldn't you like to shop with Kathy?

'The Lion In Winter' A Dramatic Tour de Force At the Circle

If ever the Community Theatre deserved to be proud of its accomplishments, it should feel doubly so for its most recent offering, "The Lion in Winter" by James Goldman, a bitter drama of royal family life, taking place in the 12th Century.

The carefully restrained set, its only color provided by heraldry designs, suggested an ancient Medieval castle, perfect setting for the swaggering, cruel, extremely virile Henry II, King of England, played by Roy Baxter.

His match, Queen Eleanor of Aquitance, played with a venomous tongue, was Gertrude Chappell. One could understand that the lovely young mistress, played so appealingly, by Susan Leslie, could hardly hold a man of his strength.

As for the high spirited trio of sons, it was fascinating to follow the constantly changing double dealings, as they plotted among themselves and against one another for the right to inherit the throne.

Richard, as played by Paul Elliott was indeed the Lion Hearted; Prince John, played by James Bennett, a typical spoiled weakling; Prince Geoffrey, played by Nicholas Gerogiannis, the most cool-headed of the lot. Each character was well developed.

Young Philip, King of France, played by James Sweeney, was believable as he threw his weight with various of the plotters who included the queen.

Lavish costumes, designed and executed by Gia were no small contribution to the play. Constant movement to fit each emotional outburst was almost like a ballet, no doubt the work of the directors, Michael Keller and Roy Baxter. Production assistant was Ruth Jordan Allan assisted by a fine staff.

Strictly for adults, many of its well enunciated lines being on the bawdy side, the play is a must for those who like good theater. The opening performances were enthusiastically received.

Farewell to a Lovely Lady

Miss Esther Longfellow was guest of honor at the farewell party given for her by Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings, not long ago. She positively chirped with pleasure at seeing so many of her close friends at once.

Miss Longfellow is leaving Carmel to live in Santa Fe, New Mexico where old friends from San Francisco are moving also. Since her little house on San Carlos near Santa Lucia was up for sale, she decided to do so.

Letters to Esther from the Chicago poet, Vincent Starett, with whom she has corresponded for over thirty years, appear in a recently published book of his letters and photographs. A bibliography of all his works, which she prepared, is also included.

Their return by air was much faster, of course, taking them only five hours.

Whaling Spree

Helen Mears of the Carmel Hacienda returned recently from a cruise called "The Whaling Spree" to Hawaii on the S. S. Lurline. She and a friend from New York visited four islands including Maui.

Late in the summer, Helen attended the Audubon Camp of the West in Dubois, Wyoming with Mrs. Frank (Ruth) Sarett, former director of the Carmel Foundation. It was an interesting experience in community living, with teachers from all parts of the United States. They saw lots of beautiful scenery, and heard talks on conservation and ecology.

Helen, a children's writer, is working on a book based on a legend about a girl in the Mohawk Valley in New York State during the Revolution.

Retirement Every Year!

THE ALASKA BROWN BEAR is the biggest meat-eating animal in the world, often attaining a height of ten feet when he rears up on his hind legs. Like all bears, the 'brownie' hibernates in winter. Soon after the first snow falls, he finds a cave or a deep shelter under an overhanging ledge of rock. There he curls up and sleeps until spring.

The bear 'retires' for several months every year, sustained by the fat stored in his body. When human beings retire, however, they don't receive the same help from Nature. They turn instead to life insurance. Nothing can make a man's retirement years more financially secure than a portfolio of Sun Life policies tailored to his requirements. Let me tell you how.

Author Returns From East

Carmel author Nelo Drizari, after spending three weeks doing research work with Ivy League college libraries back East, rushed home to Carmel to cast his vote in the presidential elections.

In Washington, after spending time at the Library of Congress for two of his projected books, he was interviewed for a special broadcast for the "Voice of America".

When Nelo told us that he "rushed" back here to vote, he did take time to come back on the Santa Fe's Super Chief. (Ed's note: Thank heavens it is still running for that's exactly the way we'll return to Washington next time.)

As Nelo so aptly put it: "not only for sentimentally nostalgic reasons, but because it is the most satisfying way to appreciate America's great beauty."

"How much more relaxing" continued Nelo," to enjoy the lovely panorama while working on my notes in the seclusion of my roomette, rather than from a 40,000 jet altitude."

At stopovers in New Mexico, Arizona and California our Carmel author enjoyed talking with today's Indian youth, a special interest of Nelo's. He plans to return to these southwestern states to do further research. Could it be the theme of his next book?

Arabia AAUW Topic

The Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies was the setting for the November meeting of the Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Association of University Women.

As an added stimulus to the AAUW study of the United Arab Republic, the meeting was planned around an Arab theme, beginning with a delicious luncheon of authentic Arab dishes, including bakalava.

A trio of musicians from the Defense Language Institute, appropriately named The Arabian Knights, entertained with Arabic selections.

Dr. Mahmud Hariri, Dean, MIFS protrayed the historical developments of the United Arab Republic.

Dr. Hariri described the military preparations thrust upon the U.A.R. by Communist Russia. He said that the Arabs must recognize that a Jewish state must exist in the Near East, and that inaction by the United States in the Near East is no policy.

He proposed that both Israel and the U.A.R. make of Sinai a "New Palestine" for the resettlemente of Palestinian Arabs who do not wish to re-settle elsewhere and who cannot remain dispossessed and displaced for much longer.

Mrs. H. R. Youngman of Monterey and Mrs. Russell B. Bomberger of Pebble Beach were in charge of AAUW arrangements.

Timetable On Rio Signals Stepped Up

At long last, the signals are going in at Rio Road and Highway 1.

A lengthy news release from the office of E. F. Gregory, district engineer for the California Division of Highways, is laudatory in crediting Granite Construction Company, their subcontractor, Steiny Mitchell and several others for the speedy results in getting the signals installed several months before the scheduled time.

The Pine Cone hears it differently.

A resident of the area, Mrs. John (Ginny) Zack, alarmed at the increased traffic turning into the newly developed Holiday Inn, Safeway and other businesses in the Rio Road area, decided to do something about hurrying up the signals.

A letter to Gregory's office in San Luis Obispo got no response.

A letter to Alan Pattee brought a promise of help, but no discernible action — the lights were still a long way off.

Finally, Jinny Zack called Gov. Reagan's office in Sacramento, and while she didn't get through to the governor, a most accommodating aide took down the information Jinny wanted Reagan to have, and promised to forward it to the proper people — the Division of Highways director himself.

Jinny then got in touch with Willard Branson, Monterey County Supervisor, and pointed out the dangers inherent in just some blinking lights at a dangerous corner.

Branson agreed, and all of a sudden, workmen appeared at the site and began to work.

"I'm sure it was the phone call to Sacramento got things going, but I'm also sure that it was Branson talking to and pressuring the right people that got the signals installed three months early."

Bank of America Mails Checks

Santa Claus will make an early visit to many thrifty Californians this year, when nearly $87 million in Bank of America Christmas Club checks — including funds for 178 Carmel residents — are distributed this month.

In making the announcement today, Manager, August H. Johnson said the local savers will be presenting themselves with a $55,228.00 gift.

He noted that the money will be distributed in plenty of time for the holiday shopping season.

The $86.8 million in the thrift program's 45th year of operation surpasses the record high of 1967 by $2.9 million. This year's Christmas Club checks will average $210.55, up from last year's $200.68.

Most of this money can be expected to help bulge Yule stockings with gifts on Christmas eve, although some of the money will be used for winter vacations or paying such year-end expenses as taxes and insurance premiums.

Robert Canning, was found dead recently at his home on Sante Fe and 3rd. Born in 1940, he was employed by N. B. Florist Shop. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Caning of Santa Barbara, as well as a sister and brother.

LUNCHEON IS SERVED — Food at the Carmel Valley Village "Keeping Room" appeals to two senses — sight and flavor. Vonn Hamilton, right, production manager of the Valley gourmet room, hands a gaily colored tray, even more gaily colored napkins, and if possible, even more gaily colored paper plates filled with "Quiche Lorraine," eggplant relish or waldorf salad, tomato broth and sweets, to Mrs. Ruth Kummerow, a customer who probably doesn't have to watch her calories. Yummie.

ONE IN, ONE OUT — Dru Dunn, affable keeper of the "Keeping Room" in Carmel Valley Village, takes a Quiche Lorraine from the oven with a spatula while she prepares to place another one in for heating. The "Keeping Room" also specializes in mouth-watering breads, cookies and other gustory goodies, all made from original recipes by Dru Dunn.

'Keeping Room' Is Place For Hungry

In rural America before the turn of the century, the kitchen, because of its warmth, delicious smells and central location, was known as the Keeping Room.

In the Carmel Valley Village, a warm room, filled with delicious odors, and featuring a truly gourmet menu, is aptly called the Keeping Room.

Presiding over the stoves and ovens in the "Keeping Room" is a genial, smiling woman who refers to herself as a "creative cook," and who, besides creating delicious lunches and dinners in the gourmet style, is working on two cookbooks simultaneously, one on drinks and dunks, the other on gourmet foods.

Dru Dunn is a woman with ideas, and the Keeping Room is one of her better efforts.

Devoted primarily to the production of tasty, hearty bread in the old-fashioned manner, her Keeping Room also features lunches and a full line of spices, gadgets, nick-nacks and miscellany for the kitchen, patio and barbecue.

Luncheon is served by Dru Dunn to those fortunate to have time to tarry a while and eat at the Keeping Room.

Mainstay of the luncheon menu is "Quiche Lorraine," a delectable concoction of puffed pie dough, Canadian Bacon, onions and shredded Swiss cheese.

But for the individual who is tired of the dreary mass of dough sold today as bread, Dru Dunn offers Boar Hunter Bread, rugged, heavy, dense and rough-textured

'Store Needs Image' Says Carmel Teacher-Merchant

How many students can boast of having a political science teacher who is as well-versed on the current trend in men's fashions as on the diplomatic situation in the Near East?

Hilmi Voskay, owner of the Oxbridge Men's Wear shop in Carmel, is by profession a teacher who claims men's wear to be his avocation.

Voskay, a native of Istanbul, came to the United States in 1945. He went to school in Massachusetts and studied English and then went on to complete his first two years of college at Duke University in North Carolina.

He graduated from the University of Nevada in 1950 and was awarded a scholarship to Stanford, where he received his masters degree in political science.

From 1951 to 1964 he taught Turkish at the Defense Language Institute in Monterey and also at MPC.

It was during this time that he first became interested in men's wear by working part-time for a men's shop in Carmel.

Four-and-a-half years ago Voskay opened his own specialty men's wear shop and just recently completed a new addition to his store.

According to Voskay, there is an art to operating a small shop. "The store has to have an image and has to give the utmost in quality and service or else it will be swallowed by the larger shops."

Oxbridge Men's Wear is a specializer in the "traditional look." "Traditional wear has proved the most popular," he said, explaining that it won't disappear overnight like a summer storm.

An example of the traditional look is the turtleneck sweater.

"It's been around for years," he explained, "but when houses start trying to introduce fashion to the turtleneck by adding french cuffs or making it out of silk, then it loses its traditional look and becomes just another item that will soon fade out.

"The turteneck sweater worn with a sports jacket has been popular for a long time. But wearing it with a suit jacket is another new fashion attempt and won't last."

Other examples of the traditional look are the country suits which Oxbridge Men's Wear offer in a variety of tweeds.

Noting that men's interest in fashion has definitely increased within the past five or six years, Voskay attributed this interest to a more affluent society.

In addition to his shop, Voskay also teaches night courses in Near East diplomacy and Cultural and Human Geography at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

He's not the only member of his family interested in fashion since his wife, Esin, also a native of Istanbul, runs the Flair Shop for women in the Pine Inn.

Voskay has a philosophy about his shop which is written on the official coat of arms of the Netherlands. It reads: "I Shall Maintain." He tries to uphold this.

Voskay adds that he feels his shop is qualified to handle any problem in clothes selection, coordination and fitting. Bill Szabo, who received his training in Vienna, works in alterations and Richard Cartwright, who has worked in men's wear for the past five years, is one of his salesmen.

CARMEL SCENE—Artist Stan Spohn finds continuing inspiration from the Carmel area, from the beaches to the forests. He sits beneath the trees bordering Carmel's beach to paint one of his typical seascapes.

'On-The-Fence' One-Man Show For Stan Spohn

Carmel artist, Stan Spohn, is being given a solo weekend show at the Carmel Valley Artists Co-op Gallery incuding a unique "on-the-fence" area under the oaks in the Carmel Valley village near the postoffice.

Recent paintings of Carmel, the valley, the coastline and the trees from Monterey to Big Sur are included along with figure and still-life subjects.

This California-born artist won scholarships through four years at Los Angeles Art Center and later painted and studied museums across the United States and Europe.

He has shown and won various awards and critical applause in many juried shows in museums, state and couty fairs, etc.

But he considers all that a prelude to the great day four years ago when he broke ground for his studio and home across from Sunset Cultural Center at 10th and Mission. (Seen on the AFA Tour of Carmel Studios).

He has enjoyed the privilege of working on the Monterey County Fair and on juries locally and has great hope for the Renaissance of Carmel in all the arts.

RELIGIOUS ART—Plans are well under way for the Naval Postgraduate School's Sixth Annual Religious Art Show to be held from Jan. 20-31. Examining one of the entries, a driftwood sculpture by Nick A. Guastella entitled "Mater Dolorosa," are exhibit co-chairmen Mrs. B. R. Goggins (left) and Mrs. R. J. Armacost, and Father Joseph F. Cloonan, the school's Catholic chaplain. Local artists are invited to enter paintings, sculpture and crafts into the competition for $500 in awards. For further information, write the Catholic Chapel Guild, Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey.

TOO CUTE FOR WORDS—Like, adorable. Beautiful. Cuddly. Lovable. Affectionate. Angelic. These two puppies are cuter than all of those. Available at the SPCA shelter, 2099 David Ave.

THE WINNER! — Mrs. Gunnar Norberg, left, accepts a small chit from Charles Thomas entitling her to the selection of any $500 painting in the Carmel Art Association gallery. Mrs. Norberg held the lucky number in the association's annual scholarship fund-raising drive.

HUDDLE — Among the members of the Carmel Art Association and invited guests were Carmel Mayor Barney Laiolo and City Clerk Hugh Bayless who have their heads together, probably discussing which painting they will select if they are winners — or who knows, maybe they're discussing business.

Barbara Norberg Wins CAA Prize

More than 500 people gathered at the gallery of the Carmel Art Association Saturday evening for the drawing of the lucky number that would give the winner a choice of any $500 painting in the gallery.

Lovely Shelly Miller, daughter of association member and Carmel artist Royden Martin, reached into the flamboyant box and pulled the lucky number, and Mrs. Gunnar Norberg came forward to claim the prize.

The occasion was the annual pre-Christmas party held by the Art Association at its gallery on Dolores St., and was the culmination of two months of ticket selling to provide funds for a $1000 art scholarship.

Barbara Norberg can now select any $500 painting in the gallery, and she has a year to do it.

It seemed that fate had played a role in the selection of Barbara Norberg as the winner. She has given so freely of her time in the promotion of cultural activities in Carmel. She has played leading roles in many plays — at the original and the restored Golden Bough in Carmel, at the Wharf Theater in Monterey, at the Barn Theater in the Carmel Valley, and at the Forest Theater in Carmel.

She was a member of the board, and secretary of the community corporation, which financed, restored, and operated the restored Golden Bough Playhouse in the early 1950s. In the late 1940s she was a member of the triumvirate which led the Monterey County Symphony through its difficult early years (the others were the late Grace Holden and the late Philip Schneeberger).

Local Dentists To UOP Alumni Meet

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR — Mrs. Robert Von Pegenhardt, left, and Mrs. John McNair discuss the annual Christmas bazaar being held by the women of St. Dunstan's on Saturday, Nov. 23 from 10:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the church in Carmel Valley. Mrs. McNair holds a contemporary version of Raggedy Ann, while behind her is a doll and cradle. Children's toys are in the Pooh Corner, and the handcrafted silver and gold religious jewelry of James Avery will also be featured. Luncheon will be served from 11:30 to 1:30.

Local Artists Aid Seaside School

William J. Verdult of Carmel Highlands is among Peninsula artists contributing paintings and other art works to an auction Nov. 25 to benefit the children of Highland Elementary School in Seaside.

The auction, to be conducted by junior livestock county fair auctioneer Art Bayer, will also include pottery and picture frames.

The PTA-sponsored event, scheduled for 7 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the school, Yosemite Street and Sonoma Avenue in Seaside, will raise money for projects to benefit the school and children, such as more playground equipment and sponsorship of entries in next year's science fair.

The public is invited to attend and bid, and artists are invited to contribute samples of their work by calling Jim Eubanks, vice president of Highland PTA, at 394-6048 or 394-8763.

All Saints' Class

Father Farmer will be teaching a four part series on the techniques of praying beginning, Monday, Nov. 25, at 8 p.m. at Grant Hall on Dolores street near 9th.

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

The Carmel Music Society will present Benjamin Britten's opera "Curlew River" tomorrow evening in the Sunset Cultural Center Theatre, San Carlos and 8th, at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets are available at the Friar Tuck Bookstore, Mission near 6th, Carmel. Phone 624-7500.

"Curlew River" was first presented in Aldeburgh, England in June 1964 as part of the Aldeburgh Music Festival, which Mr. Britten founded in 1948.

Inspired by the Japanese No drama, "Curlew River" attempts to bridge the gap between East and West by the use of a combination of the No drama and a Medieval mystery play.

The No drama originated in Japan in the early part of the 15th Century when Kannami Kiyotsugu and his son Se-ami Motokiyo combined the best features of the sarugaku and the den-gaku to form the No-gaku.

The No-gaku formed the principal form of dramatic entertainment of the aristocrats and the warrior class in feudal Japan. Normally restricted to the enjoyment by the ruling class, the Nogaku was used on all ceremonial occasions at the Imperial court.

Normally the form of a Nogaku followed a precise pattern of development. First there appears a monk or a minister of state who identifies himself and then walks about the stage to indicate a journey.

After a suitable amount of walking about, he announces his arrival at a famous place. He is then joined by another player, usually in the dress of a farmer or fisherman, who proceeds to tell the first character all about the great battles and heroes connected with the locale.

Suddenly the second player disappears. He literally vanishes. While the first player is wondering what happened to his acquaintance, a group of farmers and wood choppers appear and proceed to praise the exploits and heroic achievements of a deceased local warrior.

Now the second player makes another appearance, but now he is clothed in the ceremonial dress of a Shinto or Buddhist deity. In words and actions he proceeds to recount his bravery, his heroic death in battle, and his suffering in the other world. He implores the mercy and prayers of all for the repose of his soul.

A chorus intones either alone or with the performers as the story develops. Masks are worn by the first and second leading characters. Musicians seated at the rear of the stage play on assorted drums to the accompaniment of a transverse flute.

"Curlew River" has received warm reviews from critics. It played last week-end at the University of California in Berkeley to an enthusiastic audience.

Our Men in Service

It took Col. Walter E. Johns 40 years to reach Carmel — since 1928 when his first post-West Point station was Presidio. Now retired, he and Mrs. Johns are enjoying golf, gardening, Carmel outdoors generally, and "We love the library." They have one son, with General Dynamics in Waco, Tex.

Army 1st Lt. Robin B. Bartlett, son of Colonel and Mrs. L. R. Bartlett Jr., who live at 4083 Sunset Lane, Pebble Beach, has received the Air Medal for service in Vietnam.

Lt. Bartlett earned the award for combat aerial support of ground operations in Vietnam.

Airman David H. Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Hunter of Carmel, has been assigned to Goodfellow AFB, Tex., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman will be trained on the job as an education specialist.

Airman Gary P. Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Connell, Carmel, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He is now assigned as a fire protection specialist with a unit of the Air Training Command at Laredo AFB, Tex. Airman Connell is a 1968 graduate of Carmel High School.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER — On Carmel Rotary Club's recomendation, Ronald L. Renard of Monterey has become the first Rotary International Undergraduate Scholarship recipient from the district in 16 years. He has been awarded an all-expense year's study at the University of Montpellier, France. Son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Renard, Ronald is a sophomore pre-medical honor student at the University of San Francisco. His name was among 75 submitted to Carmel Rotary by Monterey Lyceum.

Costumes at Library

The staff of the Harrison Memorial Library will celebrate National Children's Book Week on Friday, Dec. 22, by dressing in costumes representing characters in children's stories. Each member will have a label indicating which character they are, in case they are not immediately recognizable. Also, punch and cookies will be served during the day.

Children's Book Week begins on Nov. 18, so the Children's room will be appropriately decorated, with special book marks being available.

Story hours for pre-school children will be held on Tuesday morning at 10:30 a.m. and Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

McKever Retires

Robert McKever Jr., a vice president of Crocker-Citizens National Bank and Long-time figure in financial, community and charitable activities on the Monterey Peninsula, is retiring as manager of the bank's Pebble Beach office at the end of November.

He will continue as a vice president, however, devoting his attention to customer and community relations. Thus he continues a banking career beginning in 1922 with the First National Bank of Monterey. He was president of that bank when it became part of the Crocker-Citizens system in 1959.

Spaghetti Dinner

More than 700 people enjoyed the recent spaghetti dinner served by the Mothers Club of Junipero Serra School last weekend.

KRUG is one of the small champagne makers of France. Their wines are made with scrupulous care and many connoisseurs around the globe believe KRUG to be the very best non-vintage champagne on the market. The production is so limited that of their vintage champagne, only 150 cases are annually allowed for the 13 Western States of the United States. KRUG is England's most favored champagne. Its style is different; it is fuller, richer and has more body. The superb quality justifies the fine reputation KRUG enjoys the world over.

'High' Noon at River School

Albert Szent-Gyorgyi

Although meaning of a child's work of art may be obscure to an adult, it is clear and valid for its maker who is usually glad to explain it to us so that we may enjoy with him his triumph over chaos.

Excitement is high for children each noon hour at River School. They enjoy four options in the use of their free time, including use of the library, painting, playground activity, or working in the "Exploration Room."

Four classes a day are given the opportunity to use the school's Exploration Room. This room contains four large tables, two of which are equipped with wood-working vises. Many hand tools are available, and wood is supplied from the scrap piles of local lumber companies and cabinet shops. Another table is the Invention Table, which is provided with a variety of junk with which children may invent whatever their imaginations may bring forth.

Of special interest at this time is the Clay Table, where seven Carmel High School students from Mr. Lloyd Baskerville's pottery classes have been demonstrating pottery - making techniques, and helping the youngsters produce pottery of surprisingly good quality. These student-teachers have been Kathy Baldwin, Debbie Monroe, Celia Morganrath, Mark Czirban, Gary Kelley, Noel Mapstead, and Randy Siino.

Occasionally a student will sit down at the Exploration Room's short-wave radio receiver, don the headphones, and search for distant and unusual broadcasts.

The purpose of this room is to encourage students to develop and pursue the urge to create, to provide an alternative to playground activity, to give students success with a variety of art, craft, and construction media, and to add joy to the children's school experiences.

Discovery consists of seeing what everybody has seen and . . . thinking what nobody has thought.

The program is made possible through the use of volunteer help, being manned to date by Mrs. Barbara Pollioni, Mrs. Patricia Sorri, and Mrs. Esta Vicino. The temporary addition of the high school students last week provided strong evidence that, the more help available, the higher the quality of student work. Additional helpers with skill in art, crafts, woodwork, or just a willingness to help as needed, are being sought, whether housewives, retired persons, part time students, etc.

In addition to needing help, the school is seeking certain tools and materials for student use, including old kitchen knives, old table knives, forks, and spoons; lumber, large or small; wire (any kind); old machinery, clocks, or other mechanical items; wood-working tools of any kind; clay tools.

Steven Selle of River School watches while Celia Morganrath of the Carmel High School pottery class demonstrates a clay technique.

Linda Lewis, Seaneen Christian and Eddie Russell of River School are learning from Debbie Monroe of the Carmel High School how to smooth a clay bowl.

Barry McGuckin of River School creates an object in clay under the tutelage of Randy Siino, Carmel High School football player.

River School students Stanley Lockwood, Peter Sherman and Frank Lucido cooperate on a building project during the noon hour "discovery" period.

Photos by Patricia Sorri

Stephen Wolf of River School uses all his powers of concentration to build a "who knows what" during the noon hour free choice activity time.

Who Doesn't Pay Which Taxes Why

"Everyone seems to have his favorite tax loophole," was the opinion expressed by Helen Reed at the last general luncheon meeting of the League of Women Voters.

Carmel Planning Commissioner, Dorothy von Meier, was an interested listener at the meeting which scrutinized tax exemptions at the state level.

Property tax exemptions, which include property of fraternal organizations, veterans, churches, private colleges, hospitals and charitable organizations constitute only four and a half per cent of the total, it was brought out.

However, it was questioned whether posh retirement homes should be exempted while homes of elderly who cannot afford to live in them are not.

While 13 other states take larger proportions of our income, we expect more and more services.

A questionnaire was passed around asking what exemptions members would favor.

The meeting was well attended. The League meets for lunch on the second Thursday of the month at the Pacific Grove Community Center on Junipero, north of Forest Avenue. Babysitting is provided. For reservations call 375-0232.

Carmel Christian Science Church Sets Thanksgiving Service

The traditional Thanksgiving Day service in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel, on Thursday, Nov. 28, will include a period for testimonies of gratitude to God from individuals in the congregation. The service is at 11 a.m. and the church is located on Monte Verde near Sixth.

A brief Lesson-Sermon, consisting of readings from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, relates gratitude to an understanding of God's goodness and love. The Lesson-Sermon will be read by the First and Second Readers of the church. The public is welcome to attend this service.

The soloist, Norma Jean Hodges, will sing "When I Think Upon Thy Goodness" by Haydn accompanied on the organ by Bernice Holyoake. The congregation will also join in singing several hymns.

"Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift" (II Corinthians 9:15), the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon, states the opening theme of the esrvice.

The Responsive Reading includes passages from Psalms—

"Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart (Psalms 73:1); "And they remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer (Psalms 78:35).

The following are passages to be read from "Science and Heath with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The loss of earthly hopes and pleasures brightens the ascending path of many a heart. The pains of sense quickly inform us that the pleasures of sense are mortal and that joy is spiritual" (page 265).

"The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood.

S.F. Symphony To Open '69 Season

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra opens its 57th season Dec. 4 at War Memorial Opera House, with conductor and music director Josef Krips beginning his sixth season.

The opening orchestral program includes Wagner's Prelude to "Tannhauser," Hindemith's Mathis der Maler and Shcubert's Symphony in C Major (Great). These will be performed at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 4 and 6 and at 2 p.m. Dec. 5.

In addition to 72 regular subscription concerts scheduled for 1968-69, the season will include special events, a number of out-of-town performances, and guest artists and conductors, as well as four world premieres.

Reading Group

The International Reading Association, Monterey County Council, will hold a series of meetings in three county cities, beginning Nov. 18 at Sanborn School, Salinas.

Subsequent sessions will be at Carmel Middle School on Nov. 26 and Santa Lucia School, King City, Dec. 9.

Further information may be obtained from Barbara Lea Johnson, County Office of Education, 424-0655 or 373-2955.

Booster Badges For Clambake

For the second time in the history of the National Pro-Amateur Golf Championship sponsored by Bing Crosby, money to support the charities that benefit from the famous tournament is already pouring into the coffers well in advance of the event.

The Crosby "Clambake" is third on the winter tour next year, being played Jan. 23 through 26.

The reason for the early windfall is that for the second time the tournament is offering pre-tournament "booster badges" at $15 each.

The "booster badge" is actually a response to a demand by fans of previous years that something attractive be provided that could be given as a Christmas present. "The booster badge" makes a fine souvenir in addition to offering a savings of $20.50.

For $15 the purchaser is entitled to watch the qualifying and practice rounds prior to the tournament, as well as tournament play Thursday through Sunday at Cypress Point, Spyglass Hill and Pebble Beach golf courses.

The bargain offer lasts only until Jan. 1. After that the price goes up to $20 and it is no longer a souvenir badge.

Community Church Fifth Anniversary

A happy occasion will be celebrated on Friday, Nov. 22 when the members of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula meet for a Fifth Anniversary Dinner to be held at the church.

Starting with a reception at 5:30, dinner will be served at 6, to be followed by a program from 7 until 8 p.m.

As a special feature of the evening, one of the oldest of the charter members, Mrs. Nora Grabill, and the 5-year-old son of the minister, young George Cree, will share the cutting of the birthday cake.

Acting as servers, hosts and hostesses for the evening, the present and past members of the Board of Directors will be supervised by Dr. Charles Pearson and Mrs. Charles McDaniel. James Pruitt, new president, assisted by Mrs. Will Johnson and John Farr, has arranged a program of musical selections.

A short summary of the five years of the church's life will be presented by Dr. Ronald Menmuir, the first interim minister.

Special guests for the occasion will be those ministers who have served the church both as guest ministers and prior to the ministry of the Rev. Burkert Cree.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

This confident expression of faith from Psalm 42 is included in the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Soul and Body" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Among related passages to be read from the denominational textbook is the following: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation." — (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

Sunday morning's program in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You" is titled "Is a Better Life Just a Dream?" It will be broadcast over stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45.

This program will discuss how a person in any circumstances can gain a sense of dignity and self-respect by learning what belongs to him as a child of God.

SURROUNDED — Fort Ord's Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command is celebrating its 12th birthday this month and one member of the command who remembers "when" is Mrs. Betty Warner, center. She has been secretary to the past seven commanders, who are, from left, clockwise: Major Generals Charles J. Girard, James Sutherland, Leland G. Cagwin (whose wife, Jacqueline, has lived in Carmel since 1935, and is residing here while Gen. Cagwin is in Korea comanding the 2nd Infantry Division), Charles D'Orsa and the late Frederick Gibb; Brig. Gen. Frederick C. Roecker Jr., present commanding general of CDCEC, and Maj. Gen. George L. Marby Jr.

Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

There are three art books this week which should be called to your attention, and the first of these is Designing and Making Stage Costumes by Motley. The illustrations are great because they are so explicit. Drawings, diagrams and descriptions help the person trying designing for the stage to produce really outstanding costumes. The color plates are especially helpful. There is nothing like seeing it in glorious technicolor!

Definitely a how-to-do-it book is Etching by Julian Trevelyan. This is a very practical handling of the making of many kinds of intaglio prints. Etching, colour printing, engraving, drypoint, and mezzotint are all described and discussed, with many plates showing how the thing is done.

A kindred book is Linocuts and Woodcuts by Michael Rothenstein. This is a complete block printing book, advising students ranging from childhood to practicing adult artists. If you are planning to make your own Christmas cards, this book should catapault you into a beautiful block print design which will surprise and delight your friends. And just in time, too.

A book to buy before spending much time in London is called Kate Simon's London, Places and Pleasures. She says the book is a result of one person's taste and is written to show what one person can do in an allotted time in London. Borrow the library copy to read, and then buy your own copy to take with you to London. In the back of the book is a handy glossary to help you translate English-plain into English-American. One thing was confusing to me. When they say plates, they mean braces. When I say braces, I mean suspenders. When they say suspenders, they mean garters. More than the music goes round and round, and you can bet your sweet bippy on that.

Mound Builders of Ancient America is the title of a book by Robert Silverberg. Ancient mounds are to be found all up and down the various rivers of the midwest and into south eastern areas of the United States. Many were the theories by scholars as to just who built the mounds and what their significance might be.

It remained for the Smithsonian Institution to put to rest all baseless theories and to establish accurate knowledge of American pre-history. This book chronicles the establishment of archeology as a science in America and gives a comprehensive survey of the present state of knowledge of the various Indian groups who produced the mounds.

Eleanor Touhey Smith has a book entitled Psychic People which is an interesting compilation of short life stories of 19 proven mediums and psychics. Many of the subjects are well known, have been written about extensively, while others are relatively unknown. All are good subjects, whether or not you believe in their psychic powers. Now, where did you hide your Ouija Board?

The week of Nov. 17th is Children's Book Week. There will be special story hours for the young tads and various decorations such as posters and bookmarks. Rumors are that the library staff may work in costume that week, each one dressed as a favorite character from some juvenile book. Now that should be worth seeing! ! ! !

Auto Tune-up Course at MHS

A course in basic engine tune-up and smog-control systems will be offered by Monterey Peninsula Unified School District's adult education department Monday and Wednesday evenings, 7 to 9:30 p.m. for 10 weeks beginning Nov. 18. Classes will be held at Monterey High School, and Carmel residents are invited to sign up for the course.

Registration will be at Monterey High School adult school office from 6 to 10 p.m. Nov. 12 through 15. There is a $3 fee.

The course will include instruction in basic ignition and fuel system theory, tune-up procedures with the latest tools and test equipment, and an introduction to smog control devices and the legal regulations.

Upon completion of the course, a student will qualify to take the class "A" smog license test through the California Highway Patrol agency.

OBITUARIES

Miss Mabel Drucilla Steen, 86, Carmel resident for 16 years died recently. Native of Carson City, Nevada, she had retired in 1948 after 44 years as an educator.

She and a close friend, Miss Eva Dunbar, established a home at Mountain View and Santa Fe in 1952.

She was a member of the National Retired Teachers' Association and of the Carmel Republican Club.

She is survived by two sisters, several nieces and a nephew.

Marcia DeVoe Heads Council

Mrs. Marcia DeVoe, veteran kindergarten teacher, was named chairman of the teacher negotiating council to the Carmel School board, at the last meeting. Donald Blakeman of Middle School history department, will be vice-chairman, Mrs. Ellen Jane Down secretary. Other members will be Mrs. Sara Harkins and Roland Schut.

The board amended its rules to delegate the responsibility for enforcing the Code of Ethics for the Education Profession to the Negotiating Council. Matters relating to the number of units and ranking of applicants was also referred to the Council.

The administration was authorized to obtain bids on constructing four tennis courts at Middle School at an estimated cost of $6000.

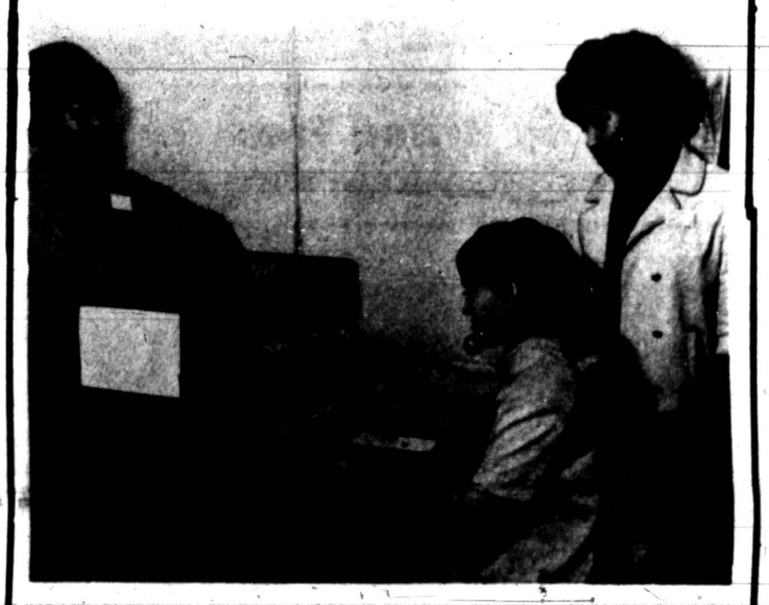
Next meeting will be held Nov. 27 at which housing needs will be studied.

Oroweat Offers Scholarships

Fourteen Freshman-year scholarships at four Bay Area colleges for the academic year beginning in September 1969 are being announced this week by the Oroweat Baking Company of San Francisco.

The program, now in its eighth year, offers five scholarships at City College of San Francisco, two at Stanford University, two at the Stanford University, two at the University of San Francisco and five at San Francisco State College.

Competition is open to all high school seniors who are residents of California.



PBX RECEPTIONIST CLASS

This class which is co-sponsored by the Young Adults For Action and the Monterey County Task Force For Action is being conducted by Telephone Company employees, Cheryle Hill, Lena Harvey, Doris Paige, and Lynne Wright at the Monterey Peninsula Area Service Center. The class is scheduled to run two nights a week for eight weeks. Attendance is running about 24 students per class meeting. In addition to learning the duties of a receptionist, the students are given some training on PBX and TWX. The receptionist training books and instructors manuals were donated to the Young Adults For Action by the California Test Bureau. If anyone is interested in placing one of these students at the completion of their training, please call our employment office on 373-1988 or the Young Adults For Action on 394-8118.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Time for Thanksgiving"

In President Kennedy's last Thanksgiving proclamation, he put Virginia ahead of his own state by saying: "Over three centuries ago, our forefathers in Virginia and in Massachusetts, far from home in a lonely wilderness, set aside a time of thanksgiving."

This declaration reminded us that the Virginians were truly the earliest white settlers in our country. They were the first to give thanks. This included being grateful for the shipload of young women sent from merry old England to marry the forlorn colonists.

Ham, Not Turkey

Historians, gourmet wise, declare baked Virginia ham was the offering, rather than turkey, in 1619 on that first Thanksgiving.

In modern times of bounty, we could serve both peanut-fed Virginia ham and California turkey. This is what we've planned for our forthcoming celebration. With cross-continental transportation costs so high, maybe a canned ham will do. That is, unless you've just returned from the old Jervey Virginia homestead with a Smithfield ham as we have!

Turkeys Plentiful

First, let's consider California's plentiful supply of turkeys. All year round these come in every size, halved or quartered and even stuffed. You only need to choose how much for how many.

Next week Party Plans will give ideas for using leftover ham and turkey. You won't regret buying a good-sized turkey and the ham keeps indefinitely. We prefer our turkey unstuffed so the meat won't be mixed with raisins, oysters, chestnuts etc. when it is time to create an operatic dish like Turkey Tetrazzini for the holiday college crowd. The dressing is baked separately which simplifies the whole deal.

The above Virginia-California menu, so soon to be staged in Carmel, is flexible. Just skip those tempting items you don't want. We hope "you-all" will get some inspirations from this interstate program, along with hunger pangs!

Crab and Avocado Cocktail

Now that Pacific Coast crab are again swinging in San Francisco's off-shore waters, we'll have a supply at Monterey's Fisherman's Wharf. But the frozen and canned variety are also on hand.

Whichever you use, combine cooked-firm crab in medium pieces with equal amount of avocado. The precaution is not to add the avocado until just at serving time. Sprinkle with lime or lemon juice.

Pass a super brand of cocktail sauce in pretty dish for individual serving at the table. Or this appetizer is easily handled with drinks beforehand. Figure it out as you prefer.

The simplest way we can describe 'how-to-do' a treasured Smithfield Ham is to follow directions on the cloth cover. Lacking this genuine Virginia ham, try a California style:

Walnut-Crusted Canned Ham

Select a large canned square-shaped ham. Leftovers, as we've just said, may be used in assorted ways. Remove ham from can, saving gelatin for basting flavor.

Make up a paste with brown sugar and claret to spreading consistency. It thins when heated. Add coarsely chopped walnuts (which come in cellophane envelopes). This forms a golden crust.

Directions for Ham

Bake him 15 minutes per lb. at 400 F., basting often with its own juices. Remove and cover thickly with brown sugar - claret - walnut topping. Return to oven and bake until lightly browned and it gives off aromas so irresistible that family and guests will howl for "Chow" . . . Thanksgiving manners or no!

Sweet Potato Souffle

Two-thirds cup cream; ½ cup orange juice; ¼ cup melted butter; 1 T. lemon juice; 2½ cups mashed sweet potatoes; 3 eggs, separated; salt, allspice, cardamon, black pepper, nutmeg to taste; 6 T. granulated sugar; 2 T. grated orange rind mixed with 1 T. grated lemon rind; 15 gingersnaps, finely rolled (about 1 cup crumbs). Makes 12 half-cup servings.

In large mixed bowl combine first 4 items. Add potatoes, beating until blended. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well. Combine next 5 ingredients with ¼ cup sugar; add to potato mixture with the rest.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; gradually add remaining sugar, beating until stiff but not dry. Fold into potato mixture. Bake in a pre-heated 350 F. oven for 1 hour 15 min., or until top is nicely brown. Serve immediately.

Everyone knows how to cook turkeys. You might take it easy and arrange with Carmel's Smoke House to have the turkey roasted and delivered with dressing and gravy.

So now for this southern specialty baked separately:

Cornbread Dressing

Two cups coarsely grated white bread; 3 (8 oz.) pkgs. corn muffin mix; ¾ thinly sliced celery; 1/3 cup chopped onion; ¼ cup snipped parsley; 1 t. ground sage; salt and pepper to taste; 2¼ cups chicken broth; 2 eggs, unbeaten. Makes 12 servings.

Combine first 7 items. Add remaining ones; blend well. Pour into buttered 1 qt. baking dish in 350 F. oven, for 30 min. Serve warm.

California Brussels Sprouts

These tender green miniature cabbage "roses" grown on California's foggy coast, are extra delicate if cooked in a minimum amount of boiling water, salted and covered. Cook rapidly until barely done and very crisp. Drain, add butter, paprika, taste for more salt and top with pimiento strips.

Baking Powder Biscuits

Nowadays there are thankfully so many ready-to-bake biscuits. Separate the ones in tubes, cut them into fourths. Dash a whisk of beaten egg white over each. Bake to golden goodness. Serve with butter and cranberry jelly.

Time being at a premium, assemble the Fruit Ambrosia (always on Virginia menus) from cans: grapefruit, orange and mandarin sections sprinkled with dehydrated grated coconut, served icy cold.

Austria Subject of Explorerama Presentation

"Austria In Four Seasons," a feature-length, professionally produced travel and adventure color film will be narrated in person by its photographer Willis Butler at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 23 in the Sunset Auditorium as part of the current Explorerama series which is sponsored by the Explorers Club of San Francisco.

The color film has been hailed as the most comprehensive ever produced about Austria and includes the charm of the tourists' Austria, and the Austria which is known only to its natives.

Highlights include footage on Vienna State opera, Schoenbrunn Palace, Grossglockner at dawn, Innsbruck, Salzsburg, Vienna Choir Boys, country folk festival at Niederau, Salszburg Marionette Theatre, autumn in the Vienna woods, unusual Parade of costumed Alpine cows, and spectacular Skiing sequences filmed in the Austrian Alps.

Reserved seats are now available at Central Box Office in Carmel and Abinante Music Store in Monterey, as well as at the Sunset Auditorium on the night of the performance.

Next in the Explorerama series will be "Valley of the Rhine," to be presented on Saturday, Dec. 7.

TYROLEAN DANCE — One of the most popular dances in Austria is the "Schuhplattler Dance," performed here by Tyroleans high in the Austrian Alps. Scene is from Willis Butler's "Austria in Four Seasons" coming Saturday to the Sunset Auditorium.

One of Tchaikowsky's great masterpieces — "Eugene Onegin," will be shown in film form tonight at the Village Theater in Carmel sponsored by the Carmel Museum of Art.

Performed by the famed Bolshoi Opera Company of Moscow, "Eugene Onegin" is Tchaikowsky at his Russian best.

The film is fluid and moving, a delight to both eye and ear.

This exclusive Monterey Peninsula showing of the Soviet-made film will be presented twice, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Tickets purchased at the Carmel Museum of Art bring a return to that association.

The museum is located in the old Wells-Fargo Bank building, Dolores and 7th.

Tickets are also on sale at the Village Theatre box office until performance time.

Circle Notes

Mike Keller, who directs "The Lion in Winter" at the Circle Theater which opens Friday, Nov. 22, appears in the new Elvis Presley film "Live A Little, Love A Little." It's at the Marina Drive-In.

Carolyn Elstob will again be Public Relations Manager for the Community Theater, while Jane Edson Parker which keeps members informed.

Their annual membership drive is on. Membership includes admissions to seven performances at a reduced rate.

Members of the theater are saddened at the news of the death of their active board member, Rosemary Glasser. Rosemary will be missed on the boards of Monterey Peninsula College and the League of Women Voters too.

Movie Review

Gone With the Wind — Returning to Monterey is this classic American motion picture. It seems unnecessary to state that it is set in the South during and after the Civil War, and that the stars are Clark Gable Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia deHavilland.

2001: A Space Odyssey — Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

The Two of Us—Michel Simon as a man who hates . . . and hates . . . and hates. Everything and everybody. A moving and tender story of transition.

If He Hollers, Let Him Go — Inter-racial drama starring Dana Wynter, Raymond St. Jacques, Keven McCarthy and Barbara McNair. McCarthy wants his wife killed, and he tries to get St. Jaques, a prison escapee, to do the job.

Hot Millions — Comedy centers around the theme "man vs. computer." Peter Ustinov is great, as are Bob Newhart, Karl Malden and Maggie Smith. Cesare Romero and Robert Morley appear in cameo spots.

The Bobo — Peter Sellers, and that should be enough. But anyway, he's got his wife, Britt Eklund, Rossano Brazzi and a lot of others who are just frosting on the cake, to support him in this story of a simple-minded matador.

Counterpoint — Gripping drama about two iron-willed men match wits during the Battle of the Bulge during World War II. Charlton Heston and Maximilian Schell turn in outstanding performances.

Far from the Madding Crowd — Beautiful three-hour adaption of Thomas Hardy's Melodramatic about a willful young woman and her three suitors. Julie Christie, Alan Bates, Peter Finch and Terrence Stamp extremely good against the rugged, moody English landscape.

Take more than fifty young people, add a dash of music, and you will have the contemporary and classical recipe for the special pre-Thanksgiving concert of the Monterey County Symphony Youth Orchestra to be presented on Sunday, Nov. 24, at 3 p.m. in the Salinas High School Auditorium.

Carmel will be represented by Gayle Campbell, violin; Marianne Cleary, cello; Sallie Pastula, violin; Mindy Rayne, viola; Peri Shefik, flute; Roma Sprung, violin, and Greg Stegeman, trumpet.

Conductor Haymo Taeuber has announced an ambitious program for the talented musicians including Beethoven's "Egmont Overture," "L'Arlesienne, Suite No. 2" by Bizet, and Mozart's "Romance" from "Horn Concerto No. 3." They will also play the lyrical "Artist's Life Waltz" by Strauss, Leroy Anderson's "Trumpeter's Lullaby," and selections from "The Sound of Music" by Rogers and Hammerstein.

Soloists for the Sunday afternoon program will be Sue Perry from Pacific Grove, who will be featured on the French horn in the Mozart composition, and Carmel's Greg Stegeman, who will perform the Leroy Anderson piece.

This will be the Monterey County Symphony Youth Orchestra's first concert of the season, and is the result of rigorous rehearsals started in September. Sponsored by the Monterey County Symphony Association as one of its many youth and community activities, there is no charge for admission.
